Queensland Government

Karen (ကြီးမားရေး) - COVID-19 Vaccination Information for families with relatives in Aged care and disability care

Queensland Health

COVID-19 vaccinations for people with disabilities

COVID-19 is affecting everyone, however people with a disability may face additional health challenges. If you are unsure about your eligibility for a COVID-19 vaccination, you can contact a healthcare professional who can support you or provide you with a vaccination

Queensland Health has updated the 13 HEALTH (13 43 25 84) hotline to assist people with a disability, their carers and support workers to easier access to COVID-19 vaccination.

Children under the age of 12 years are not eligible for the COVID-19 vaccination. The vaccine is not recommended for people with an egg allergy, active/recurrent COVID-19 infection, active infectious disease, autoimmune disease or immune suppression, heart conditions, lung conditions, cancer or undergoing treatment for cancer, and other conditions.

The COVID-19 vaccine is not available for people under the age of 12 years. If you are unsure about your eligibility for a COVID-19 vaccination, you can contact a healthcare professional who can support you or provide you with a vaccination.

Pfizer and AstraZeneca vaccines are available for people with disabilities. If you are unsure about your eligibility for a COVID-19 vaccination, you can contact a healthcare professional who can support you or provide you with a vaccination.

Queensland Health has updated the 13 HEALTH (13 43 25 84) hotline to assist people with a disability, their carers and support workers to easier access to COVID-19 vaccination. People with disabilities and their support workers can contact the hotline for assistance.

Queensland Health encourages people with disabilities to contact their local Queensland Health facility to discuss their vaccination needs. People with disabilities can also contact their local GP or medication pharmacist for more information.

Pfizer and AstraZeneca vaccines are available for people with disabilities. If you are unsure about your eligibility for a COVID-19 vaccination, you can contact a healthcare professional who can support you or provide you with a vaccination.

Queensland Health has updated the 13 HEALTH (13 43 25 84) hotline to assist people with a disability, their carers and support workers to easier access to COVID-19 vaccination. People with disabilities and their support workers can contact the hotline for assistance.

Queensland Health encourages people with disabilities to contact their local Queensland Health facility to discuss their vaccination needs. People with disabilities can also contact their local GP or medication pharmacist for more information.

Pfizer and AstraZeneca vaccines are available for people with disabilities. If you are unsure about your eligibility for a COVID-19 vaccination, you can contact a healthcare professional who can support you or provide you with a vaccination.

Queensland Health has updated the 13 HEALTH (13 43 25 84) hotline to assist people with a disability, their carers and support workers to easier access to COVID-19 vaccination. People with disabilities and their support workers can contact the hotline for assistance.

Queensland Health encourages people with disabilities to contact their local Queensland Health facility to discuss their vaccination needs. People with disabilities can also contact their local GP or medication pharmacist for more information.

Pfizer and AstraZeneca vaccines are available for people with disabilities. If you are unsure about your eligibility for a COVID-19 vaccination, you can contact a healthcare professional who can support you or provide you with a vaccination.

Queensland Health has updated the 13 HEALTH (13 43 25 84) hotline to assist people with a disability, their carers and support workers to easier access to COVID-19 vaccination. People with disabilities and their support workers can contact the hotline for assistance.

Queensland Health encourages people with disabilities to contact their local Queensland Health facility to discuss their vaccination needs. People with disabilities can also contact their local GP or medication pharmacist for more information.

Pfizer and AstraZeneca vaccines are available for people with disabilities. If you are unsure about your eligibility for a COVID-19 vaccination, you can contact a healthcare professional who can support you or provide you with a vaccination.

Queensland Health has updated the 13 HEALTH (13 43 25 84) hotline to assist people with a disability, their carers and support workers to easier access to COVID-19 vaccination. People with disabilities and their support workers can contact the hotline for assistance.

Queensland Health encourages people with disabilities to contact their local Queensland Health facility to discuss their vaccination needs. People with disabilities can also contact their local GP or medication pharmacist for more information.

Pfizer and AstraZeneca vaccines are available for people with disabilities. If you are unsure about your eligibility for a COVID-19 vaccination, you can contact a healthcare professional who can support you or provide you with a vaccination.

Karen အိုး - COVID-19 Vaccination Information for families with relatives in Aged care and disability care