

Celebrating Reconciliation Grants

About National Reconciliation Week

National Reconciliation Week, 27 May–3 June, celebrates and builds on respectful relationships shared by Aboriginal, Torres Strait Islander and non-Indigenous Australians.

National Reconciliation Week is an opportunity for all Australians to come together to share a deeper understanding of our national story.

About the grants

The Queensland Government's Celebrating Reconciliation Grants encourage all Queenslanders to participate in National Reconciliation Week and commemorate two significant milestones in our national history — the successful 1967 Referendum to change how Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples were referred to in the Constitution, and the 1992 High Court Mabo decision.

Celebrating Reconciliation Grants will support up to 37 reconciliation events and activities across Queensland held in or around National Reconciliation Week 2023.

Grants of up to $3,000 (exclusive of GST) are available for events and activities that:

- promote and facilitate truth-telling, healing, trust and respectful relationships between Aboriginal, Torres Strait Islander and non-Indigenous Queenslanders
- promote inclusion through strengthening relationships between Aboriginal, Torres Strait Islander and non-Indigenous Queenslanders
- raise community awareness of National Reconciliation Week
- offer community members opportunities to learn, share and grow — for example, through sharing stories about past events, and showcasing local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories, arts and cultural activities.

Get involved

National Reconciliation Week is an opportunity for all Australians to learn about our shared histories, cultures and achievements and to explore how each of us can join the national reconciliation effort.

Reconciliation must live in the hearts, minds and actions of all Australians as we move forward, creating a nation strengthened by respectful relationships between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and the wider Australian community.

To support National Reconciliation Week, all Queenslanders are encouraged to get involved, host or participate in events and activities in their community and help make reconciliation everyone's business.

To apply for a grant, visit www.qld.gov.au/recgrants. Applications close at midday on Monday 16 January 2023.
